Command

Commands are a string that can be embedded in a question text. Commands enable special effects such as image display when a question is asked. The command string is a 4-character string starting with * and is not case sensitive.

Some commands require an option value, and multiple option values can be set if multiple commands are written in the question text. "?" is used as the delimiter for option values. (because "?" cannot be used in file name).

Ex. Option value :

One IMG and two SLPs in the question text

c:\img\image.bmp?100?2000

One IMG and two SLPs in the question text, if the first SLP is omitted.
